

Todd Hamilton, *Executive Director, Receptive Services Association of America

As the Executive Director of the Receptive Services Association of America (RSAA), Hamilton will be working with other travel industry partners and individual RSAA members to help raise the association's profile within the industry.

Hamilton has been the assistant executive director of the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) since July 1, 2006. In this role, he has served as the chief operating officer charged with the day-to-day management of the association. During his tenure, the AVCA grew its membership from 3,200 to 5,000, and increased convention attendance nearly 50%.

Hamilton has been part of the IMG Associations team since 1999. Before going to the AVCA, Hamilton worked seven years in government and industry affairs for the National Tour Association. He has more than 12 years experience working with non-profit organizations on a local and national level.

A native of Pikeville, Ky., Hamilton currently sits on the board of directors of the Hamilton Organization, Inc and Champion Supports & Services, Inc. He and his wife, Courtney, reside in Lexington, Ky., and have one daughter, Halle.
